Presbyterians to Burn Note on Sanctuary

A Day of Gratitude
The Presbyterian Church observed a Day of Rejoicing last Sunday in celebration of the paying off of its indebtedness incurred in the building of its sanctuary and educational plant. This coming Sunday the church will observe a Day of Gratitude and a feature will be the burning of the note of indebtedness.

Earl O'Neal will present the note to Judge James H. Pilkinton, Chairman of the Building Committee. He will turn the note over to Carson Lewis, Church Treasurer, and then the note will be burned. Appropriate remarks will be made by these participants in the ceremony.

Gratitude will be the keynote of the world Service-gratitude to God, gratitude to all who have had a part in achieving the goal, gratitude for the opportunity presented by the facilities attained by the building program.

The church over a period of 102 years has built four church buildings. The first building was erected in 1861 and called the Greenwood Church. The building and members were moved to Hope in 1874. In 1883 a new church was built at the corner of Second St. and Hazel St. This church was destroyed by fire in 1897. The members began construction of a new building immediately and the first Service was held in the new sanctuary on Jan. 2, 1898.

Construction of the new church building was begun in 1953. N. P. O'Neal generously offered to loan the church $75,000, at a modest rate of interest and he gave the church twenty years in which to pay the debt. The first Service was held in the new sanctuary on Jan. 31st, 1954.

Special guests invited to the Service Sunday include Mr. and Mrs. Earl O'Neal, Mr. B. W. Edwards, Superintendent of Construction, and Mrs. Edwards, a member of the Building Committee, and those who worshipped in the building destroyed by fire in 1897.

The church plans to have a Dedication Service on June 9th.

Copies of the history of the church are still available and will be presented to all who wish to secure them. This history was prepared by Elder Robert M. Wilson, assisted by Major Carl V. Green, two years ago at the time the church celebrated its centennial.

Newspaper Lets Building Contract

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Contracts totaling $104,400 for remodeling of a building into which the El Dorado News-Times will move this fall were let Tuesday, Walter E. Hussman, publisher of the Palmer Newspapers, announced.

Wayne Smith Construction Co. of El Dorado was awarded the base contract, in the amount of $73,800. Smaller contracts were let for air conditioning, electrical and similar work.

Hussman said the daily newspaper will convert from letterpress to offset printing this fall and will have a press capacity of 32 pages.

The building to be remodeled is near property now being used by the newspaper.

Forum Airs Socialism, Communism

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—Socialism and communism drew the attention of speakers at the 24th Freedom Forum at Harding College Tuesday.

Dr. Revilo Pendleton Oliver, professor of classics at the University of Illinois, said the United States is now 60 per cent socialist and getting that way more all the time.

Dudley C. Sharp of Houston, Tex., a former secretary of the Air Force, said it would require unusual courage to withstand the lure of the welfare state.

But he added that he detected a definite swing toward conservatism in the nation.

Augusto Villalon, 23, a Cuban exile, told his audience there are three solutions to the problem of communist infringement in the Western hemisphere.

These advances can be stopped, he said, if:

1. Americans will try to understand the cultures of Latin America;

2. The United States will educate the world on communism;

3. The press will use better sense to stop misunderstanding and confusing the news.

Sharp said that the basis for free enterprise is individual incentive and free competition.

"Future capitalism lies in the balance," he said. "Either American enterprise will continue to show mankind how to lighten his burden and improve his lot through freedom of this bright light in the world will be nothing but a glimmer and mankind will again slide back into the gloom of central control where he has lived for centuries under the heel of kings or dictators, or communists or socialists. They are all alike."

Carlos Gibson, minister of Peru, said that capitalism is not on the wane in South America. He said 80 per cent of the income generated in Peru was by private citizens.

Bill Laney, who has served as assistant labor commissioner under Clarence Thornbrough, will step into the post of commissioner at the end of this week.

His appointment to the post was announced Tuesday night by Gov. Orval E. Faubus. The governor served as master of ceremonies for the 50th anniversary dinner of the Arkansas Labor Department.

Thornbrough will become executive secretary to Faubus.

Laney, a native of Union County, worked for the International Paper Company and for the Reynolds Metal Company before becoming a labor organizer.

He twice stepped out of his post as assistant to Thornbrough to serve as legislative secretary to Faubus during regular session.

Laney's appointment to the post had been expected.

Dean Ralph Barnhart of the University of Arkansas law school, told department members in the principal address of the evening that the creation of labor departments were relatively late developments in state governments.

Properly, contract and personal rights were respected by states, he said, but not those of labor.

Suppression of the rights of labor was the motive of government until the early 1900s, he said.

States finally realized that there must be administrations of labor laws, as well as enforcement, Barnhart said, and this led to establishment of labor departments.

Action to Depend on Court Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department officials said today their investigation of pricing and trade practices in the nation's broiler chicken industry hinges on the outcome of federal court rulings on the department's request to check producers and processors' books.

The department announced early this year it had started a broad inquiry into complaints being made to it and to Congress that big processors were engaging in a number of unfair trade practices detrimental to small producers.

These complaints told of price-fixing, discrimination, reprisals, boycotting and failure of some processors to account accurately to producers.

The department centered its early inquiry in the major broiler producing areas of Arkansas and southeastern states. It started by asking a few of the larger concerns to make their records available to investigators.

These concerns refused to do so contending the department was without authority to make them open their books. The department took the question to the federal district court at Fort Smith, Ark.

The court ruled that the department did have the authority.

The department followed this up with a request for a court order subpoenaing the records of a resisting concern.

The poultry concern requested a stay on the subpoena pending the outcome of its appeal of the first ruling. Department officials said they believe the question of their right to examine the books eventually will go to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Donald A. Campbell, director of the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, said in a statement to U. S. District Court at Fort Smith Monday that a wholesale investigation of the Arkansas poultry industry was underway.

It was attached to a response asking that a motion by Tyson Poultry Co. of Springdale and Plus Poultry Inc. of Siloam Springs be denied. They had asked the court to stay an order issue April 19 for the companies to open their books to the Agriculture Department.

Koreans in Visit to Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two South Korean officials visiting Little Rock to learn Arkansas' methods of industry-hunting, said Tuesday there is little danger of the Republic nationalizing foreign investments.

Hyun Sun Bang and Sung Ok Cho, both of Seoul, told officials of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission that industry and foreign investment are badly needed in South Korea, now primarily an agricultural land.

They said Korea is in the midst of a 5-year economic plan to develop the country, which is low in capital and natural resources, but high in human resources.

Naturalization of investments would be against the tradition of the Korean people, the visitors said. They added that the lessons learned in the United States would not be used to compete for industries in the Western world.

The two have been in the United States for seven months studying economic development programs and administration. They are from the Office of Planning and Control of the ROK government.

Post Office Officials Criticized

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck has accused postal officials of "trying to blackmail Congress" out of more money with threats to cut mail service.

The officials, he said, should find some other way of saving money.

One way of doing this, suggested Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., would be for Postmaster General J. Edwards Day to buy fewer trucks and equipment and not to take on any new employees.

Pastore and Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., said they saw little chance of the Senate restoring the more than $100 million slashed from postal funds by the House.

The House whacked $92 million from a $4.9-billion budget the department proposed for the fiscal year beginning July 1. It also cut $8.3 million from $166.8 million in supplemental funds to operate the postal service between now and June 30, the end of the current year.

Faced with the economy drive, the Post Office Department sent out telegrams Tuesday to its 68 biggest offices notifying them that the pinch was on. The postmasters were told that as of now they should not hire any new employees and to limit overtime to that paid out during the four-week period which ended March 29.

Day had told Congress previously that the reductions in postal funds could bring about a curtailment of service, including elimination of Saturday deliveries.

Congressional veterans recalled that this lever to pry loose more money has been used successfully before.

During the Eisenhower administration, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield curtailed all postal services on Saturday in a similar dispute with Congress over operating funds. Congress quickly provided additional funds.

Leaves were canceled and normal pass restrictions were tightened. Officials of both the Army and the Marine Corps refused to comment about any troop movement plans, but a large number of C124 transports were seen clustered close to stacks of supplies.

U.S. to Send in Troops, Tension in Laos Mounting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic efforts to save Laos' neutrality and head off civil war in the little Southeast Asian nation edged close to a breakdown today in a shift that triggered U.S. military gestures.

Britain's Foreign Secretary Lord Home brought the deterioration of the diplomatic situation fully into the open by accusing the Soviet Union of frustrating British moves to restore peace.

As co-chairmen of the international conference which developed the neutrality formula for a "troika" government combine of pro-Communist, neutralist and rightist forces,

Pappas Takes Second Win for Orioles

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer
From the day they signed him at 18, the Baltimore Orioles were convinced that Milvades Storgio Pappas had everything.

He's lost a few things along the way, like a fistful of vowels and consonants, plus his appendix. The letters went when he shortened his name to Milt Pappas, the appendix was removed last season.

The operation spoiled the 1962 campaign, and delayed the young right-hander's anticipated leap in to the 20-game winner circle.

Now, at 23, he seems ready to make the jump.

Pappas won his second game without a defeat Tuesday night for the Orioles with a five-hit shutout of the Minnesota Twins, 1-0. It was his second complete game and dropped his earned run average to a gaudy 1.57 for the young season.

The victory protected Baltimore's half-game lead in the American League. Kansas City kept pace in second place with a 3-1 decision over the Detroit Tigers, losers of five of their last six. The Los Angeles Angels trimmed the Washington Senators 5-4 in 10 innings.

The Boston Red Sox at New York Yankees game was postponed because of cold weather. The Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians were idle.

In the National League, San Francisco defeated Cincinnati 4-2 and St. Louis routed Houston 15-0 and moved into a share of first place when Pittsburgh was spilled by Chicago's Cubs 7-2. Los Angeles edged Milwaukee 2-1 in the only other game scheduled.

The Baltimore run was driven across in the second inning by Jerry Adair with a sacrifice fly, following singles by Brooks Robinson and Joe Gaines.

Kansas City's Ed Rakew, a prime reason for the fine start of the Athletics, threw another masterpiece at the Tigers. He struck out six of the first nine men he faced, allowing only five hits. Norm Cash's homer was the only damaging blow.

Phil Regan, the Detroit starter, was the victim of sloppy support. All three of the A's runs were unearned.

Angels shortstop Jim Fregosi crashed three hits, including a game winning home run with two out in the 10th, against the Senators. Don Rudolph, the Washington starter, retired the first 15 men but the Angels got to him in the sixth and seventh. Fregosi hit the winning homer off Jim Coates, the ex-Yankee right-hander appearing for the first time in a Senator uniform. Bo Belinsky started for the Angels but did not survive the sixth. He has yet to win.

HEAVILY DAMAGED — Tornado-like winds did $10,000 damage to the Frisco, Texas home of Henry Francis. The windstorm ripped roofs from several homes in the small north Texas town causing an estimated $200,000 damage.

U.S. Swimmers Set Records in Pan-Am Games

By JERRY LISKA

Associated Press Sports Writer
SAO PAULO, Brazil (P)—The United States' young swimmers, rapidly becoming this country's leading gold collectors, have put together a near-perfect performance in their first four finals of the Pan-American Games.

The youthful Yanks finished one-two in three of the swimming finals Tuesday, one-three in the other, smashed three games records and equalled another one in wiping away the gloom that had followed the humiliating 13-1 baseball loss to Cuba on Sunday.

The brilliant performance boosted the United States gold medal total to 10 going into the fifth day of activity today. No other country has more than a single gold medal. The United States' strong track team has yet to begin competition.

The swimmers, incidentally, are following the lead of their 1960 Olympic counterparts, who won 11 of the United States' 34 gold medals, compared with nine by the highly publicized track squad.

Chet Jastrzemski, Ed Bartsch and Kathy Ellis set meet records in winning their swimming specialties, and Steve Clark matched the meet record in winning the 100-yard freestyle.

Their spectacular showing off-set another tennis upset. Allen Fox, Los Angeles, seeded second in men's singles, fell before Brazil's Carlos Fernandes, 6-2, 6-0, 3-6, 2-6, 6-4. The other U.S. entrant, Frank Froehling, was ousted Monday.

The U.S. women, however, continued in strong showings with straight set victories in the quarter-finals. Darlene Hard, Long Beach, Calif., and Carole Caldwell, Los Angeles, each won easily in singles and combined for a doubles quarter-final triumph.

At the top of other scattered U.S. activity Tuesday, the baseball team surprised defending champion Venezuela 5-4 in 10 innings, and the men and women's springboard divers took the first and second placings after compulsory events.

The three-meter springboard diving finals are scheduled today with Dick Gilbert, Lancaster, Pa., and Ken Sitzberger, River Forest, Ill., the one-two leaders. Two Arizona girls, Patsy Willard of Mesa, and Barbara McAlister of Phoenix, are one-two for the women.

Farm Hand Now Kansas City Ace

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Ed Rakew, a Los Angeles Dodgers farmhand just three years ago, has become the ace of the Kansas City Athletics pitching staff with a chance to become this city's first 20-game winner.

The 26-year-old right-hander is off to a great start with an earned run average of 1.08 and 2-1 won-lost record after his five hit, 3-1 victory over Detroit Tuesday.

Seeks Split of Common Stock

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas - Missouri Power Co., Blytheville, is seeking authority of the state Public Service Commission to declare a two-for-one common stock split.

The firm said the split would broaden public holdings in the company and enhance its financial position. The company has 847,709 shares now outstanding at par $5 value out of a limiting of 1.5 million shares. It would issue $1,695,418 shares at $2.50 par with a limit of three million shares.

A hearing on the request was set for April 30. The split would be effective May 31, if approved.

Networks Will Carry Conference

NEW YORK (AP)—All four major radio networks will carry President Kennedy's news conference live at 4 p.m. today.

Howard's H.R. Is a Winner for the Braves

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

When we last looked in on Walt Alston he was tied to the railroad tracks with a speeding train looming in the distance. In his latest episode, the Los Angeles Dodgers manager spent more than two hours hanging by his thumbs from a high precipice.

The latest chapter of the serial entitled "Walt Alston Doesn't Smile Anymore" ended when Frank Howard pulled him off the cliff by slamming a home run with two out in the ninth inning to give the Dodgers a 2-1 victory over Milwaukee.

The Dodgers, hitting a collective .220, had Alston hanging on as they managed only a second-inning single by Ken McMullen off Milwaukee starter Bob Shaw until Howard's blow. The Dodgers however, held on to a 1-0 lead behind the sharp pitching of left-hander Sandy Koufax.

Then, in the seventh inning, Alston began to lose his grip when Koufax suddenly pulled a muscle in his left shoulder while working on a two-hit shut out. Hank Aaron's homer in the ninth tied the score 1-1.

St. Louis and San Francisco moved into a tie for first place. The Cardinals pounded 17 hits and crushed Houston 15-0 while Ernie Broglio pitched a two-hitter, and the Giants whipped Cincinnati 4-2 behind Juan Marichal's six-hitter.

Pittsburgh dropped to third as the Chicago Cubs scored six runs in the fourth inning—more than they had scored in any previous game—and rolled to a 7-2 victory over the Pirates. The New York Mets and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

In the American League, Baltimore shut out Minnesota 1-0, Kansas City downed Detroit 3-1 and the Los Angeles Angels edged Washington 5-4 in 10 innings. The only other game scheduled—Boston at New York—was postponed due to cold weather and wet grounds.

Broglio, winning his second without a loss by hurling his second two-hitter, lowered his earned run average to a brilliant 0.32. The Colts attack consisted of Al Spangler's hunt single in the third inning and a double by Bob Lillis in the seventh.

Bill White and Ken Boyer led the Cardinals attack against loser Jim Golden and three successors. White collected three runs batted in with four singles and scored three runs while Boyer drove in four runs with two singles, an infield out and a bases-loaded walk.

There also were plenty of fireworks at San Francisco, where Marty Keough hit a disputed foul out of the park in the ninth inning with a man on base before going down swinging for the final out. The Reds claimed Keough's blow was a homer. They lost and Marichal won, his second victory against one defeat.

Jim Schaffer's three-run homer was the key hit for the Cubs in the fourth inning uprising that beat the Pirates. Lou Brock hit an inside-the-park homer in the sixth. Larry Jackson went the distance for Chicago, allowing eight hits and evened his record at 2-2. Former Cub Don Cardwell was the loser.

Chapter XXI

The storm had passed over, but the streets were glistening wet, with shimmering blotches of light from the street lamps. At 89th Street I located the building where young Hooper had lived, and then I began looking around for Fred. Luck was with me. He was in a one-armed lunch down the block, trying to pry something out of the short-order man. I hadn't eaten and ordered a hamburger and a cup of coffee.

Fred is a clean-cut young man you'd never spot as a detective. "I came to call you off it," I said. "My client has been in touch."

"Was I right about the taxi driver?"

"Yes. He dropped Higby in the middle of Central Park. Fred, I don't want to get into this in too much detail. The police may come to you to find out what you know. It'll be better if you don't know anything."

"You're the boss," Fred said. "Can I go home to my wife and kids?"

"Fred, for a period of seven years which ended three years ago, some man was having Frances Terrill's rent. She had an apartment on the west side of town. You think you could locate it — without approaching her?"

"Was it in her name?"

"I don't know, but I'd guess yes. She was hiding the situation from her daughter who was in a convent school up the Hudson. Frances wouldn't have used a fake name. Canaday or the TRPB must have it in his files. He investigated. Which brings me to the main point, Fred. Canaday never got any lead to the guy who was paying the rent."

"If he couldn't it's not likely I can," Fred said.

"But if you had a name to start with you might have more luck."

"What's the name?"

"General Lee Hooper."

Fred whistled softly. "You're kidding. Happily married. A puritan to end all puritanical poops." I tracked Canaday by phone at his home and asked for the address of Frances' former apartment.

"I don't have the file here," he said, "but I think it was 5 West seventy-eighth. Something stirring?"

"I think I've got a lead to the guy who was paying the rent," I said.

"Oh?" His voice sounded odd. "Military reputation?"

"So I'm right!" I said.

"I could never prove it, Mr. Ryan. I'd be running a fruit stand back in my home town of Oneida if I couldn't back it up. But I've wondered if the reason a certain military agent has to do in your client might have to do with a lady."

I was in such a hurry to get back to Fred with the news that I nearly knocked some guy down who was getting up from a table near the phone to pay his bill. We kind of embraced each other for a moment to keep from both sprawling on the floor. He said something original like "Where's the fire?" I said something equally original like "Sorry, Dad!" and hurried back to Fred.

Canaday's remarks made Fred feel better. It was pretty clear he wasn't on a wild goose chase.

I took a cab across town to Frances Terrill's apartment building. I called her on the lobby phone. She answered almost at once.

"Listen, Frances. I've seen

Matt. He's fine. He sends his love.

"Where is he?"

"I'll tell you about it, but I want to talk to you without Dawn around. I want to talk to you about the guy who paid the rent at 5 West Seventy-eighth Street. I know who he is."

"I'll join you in about five minutes."

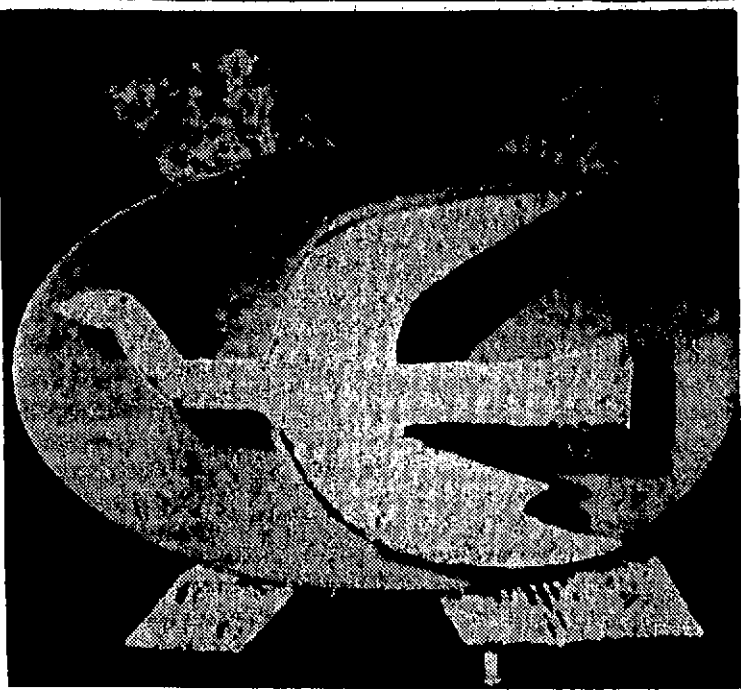

She was as good as her word. She came off the elevator wearing a trench-coat style raincoat over her dress. She carried a small umbrella under her arm. Her face was dead white except for the scarlet gash of lipstick.

"There's a quiet little bar about a block down First Avenue," she said. "Booths."

We walked there without talking. I don't know how other men feel, but I always react to the way a woman walks. Frances Terrill moved along beside me, stride for stride. There was no mincing little dogtrot to keep up with me. There's something companionable about walking along that way with an attractive woman.

The bar was one of those long, narrow little places. There were only three or four customers in the place when we went in. The bartender obviously knew Frances. We went to a booth at the very back of the place. It was so dark I could scarcely see her face. A waiter came over and started to light a candle inside a glass holder on the table. Frances waved him away. After we ordered and the waiter had gone, Frances said: "Let's have it, Corby."

Suggests Task Force for Education

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Education Commissioner Arch Ford proposed creation today of a special "task force" within the Education Department to study and recommend solutions for school problems.

The principal function of the study agency would be informing the general public on shortcomings in the various school districts. The task force would look into the need for school consolidation, Ford said, but consolidation is not the major problem facing Arkansas education.

Ford said the idea of the task force is still in the talking stage in the Education Department, but he had all of his major department heads on hand when he announced his proposal at a news conference and all appeared in agreement with him.

J. H. Wasson, director of supervision, said there was a crying need for improvement of the overall quality of education and a demand for educational leadership as opposed to financial and administrative leadership among top school officials.

Ford said the Education Department was not overly concerned about eliminating small districts by consolidation because only six percent of Arkansas students are in the 125 districts which now have less than 350 pupils each.

He used the figure 350 because this was the cutoff in a 1948 initiated consolidation act which reduced the number of districts from more than 2,000 to about 450.

Ford also said that the state aid formula which gives small school districts additional money was only costing the state $879,000 a year for the extremely small districts.

"This does not mean that we do not feel that some consolidation is necessary," Ford said. "But consolidation and elimination of the weighting factor in state aid is not a panacea."

All school districts, including the largest, have educational problems, Ford said, and all could use a thorough analysis to advantage.

Ford said he felt the Education Department could handle creation of the task force with its present personnel, but that he would not hesitate to ask for some financing for it if there was a special session of the legislature.

"But we don't think we should wait two years until the legislature gets another chance to handle these problems," he said.

The 1963 legislature took a look at, but failed to pass, a school consolidation study bill.

Ford said that if the staff approves his task force idea, he should have it ready to submit to the state Board of Education at its June meeting.

Freedom Forum to Hear Faubus

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus will be one of the speakers at the 24th Annual Freedom Forum which gets underway at Harding College in Searcy, today.

Faubus will speak on the sovereign state's role in the 20th century ideological struggle.

The program will begin with a reception at the home of Dr. George S. Benson, president of the college. This will be followed by a film entitled, "Communism in Action."

Approximately 200 persons from throughout the nation are expected to attend sessions beginning Tuesday. Topics to be discussed include capitalism vs. socialism, U.S. Trade Expansion Act and the European Common Market, and the role of churches, education and civic groups against communism.

To Take Part in Dedication

SUBIACO, Ark. (AP)—George Coury, who came to Subiaco Academy in 1960 as the son of an immigrant storekeeper, is to return next Saturday to take part in the dedication of Coury House, a new retreat home in his honor.

Coury now lives in Miami, Fla. He contributed $75,000 in par value preferred stock toward construction of the house. The three-story, 40-room building will serve as a spiritual center for laymen's retreats and as a guest house for New Subiaco Abbey and Subiaco Academy.

He Slept Through Most of It
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—When the car owned by Pros. Atty. David B. Whittington was bombed late Monday night, he didn't bother to get out of bed.

His neighbors, awakened by the blast, began searching a three-block area to discover what had happened. Finally, one man with a flashlight noticed Whittington's car.

He woke Whittington up—about 30 minutes after the bomb had gone off. Whittington and his wife had slept through it all.

The prosecutor said he had no other car. He has a son, David Jr., who is a high school student.

Communist Cannon in Cold War

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—From Radio Hanoi in English: "U.S. imperialists. Noxious chemicals. From Radio Moscow in Tonkinese: "Executioners." From Radio Havana in Spanish: "Bacteriological warfare. Merchants of blood and death."

These charges and words of abuse are Communist cannon in the cold war.

They belong to an arsenal that includes millions of books, thousands of feet of film, magazines in 20 languages, traveling clowns and Armenian folk dancers.

All are used in the relentless, massive psychological warfare devised and executed by the Communist world.

This warfare is matched, although some say in a less massive and relentless way, by the United States and its allies.

Some Americans believe the Communists, in their psychological warfare, have an unfair advantage, that the Reds lie in their teeth and some of the unsophisticated people of the world gobble up the lies.

If this belief were complete fact, battling Communist propaganda would be a simple matter. The United States and its allies would broadcast the truth. Truth eventually would catch up with utter falsehood. No one ever would believe the Communists again. But battling Communist propaganda is not a simple matter.

"Fabrications are part of Communist propaganda," says Oren Stephens, director of research and analysis for the U.S. Information Agency. "But the propaganda doesn't hinge on them. In general, Communist propaganda is based on the truth or some part of it."

As an example, Stephens cites the Communist propaganda campaign about the attempts of Negroes to register as voters in Greenwood, Miss.

The Communists do not have to fabricate always. They simply find articles written by Americans critical of the situation, Stephens says, and then quote the articles on Radio Moscow.

Although USIA stresses that the mass of Communist propaganda is based on truth, other specialists believe that the small amount of fabrication must not be ignored.

At a recent congressional hearing, for example, J. Leonard Reinsch, an Atlanta television executive, testified that, while touring Africa, he heard a Communist radio accuse the United States of developing a germ that will kill colored people while leaving white people unharmed.

During 1962, the Communist nations broadcast 3,846 hours a week to other areas of the world, using most of the important vernacular languages, including Kurdish, Hindi, Urdu, Swahili, Hausa, Mandarin and Armenian.

USIA's Voice of America countered with 761 hours a week, using some but not as many of the vernacular languages. This American effort, however, was swelled by the broadcasting of American allies.

In 1962, the Soviet Union published and distributed 40 million copies of 1,800 books and brochures in 34 non-Soviet languages. During the same year, USIA gave funds to help publish overseas print 4.4 million copies of 649 translations of American books. In addition, the USIA distributed 756,000 books contributed by private Americans.

Edward R. Murrow has freely conceded that the U.S. Information Agency, which he heads, is a propaganda outfit. But the propaganda it uses is the truth, Murrow told a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee last month.

To battle Communist propa-

Marine Reservists Are Injured

FORT CHAFFEE, Ark. (AP)—Two Marine Corps reservists were injured Sunday at Fort Chaffee when a truck in which they were riding tumbled by another truck.

Col. Roland Libby, post information officer, said the men were members of the 2nd 155 mm Howitzer Battery, USMC Reserve, from Texarkana. The men were not identified by Libby.

In Texarkana, however, Capt. Sam Dawson said one of the men was Pvt. James Breshears of Texarkana. Dawson said he suffered a broken arm, broken nose and multiple lacerations.

Young Democrats

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—John Hale of Conway has been elected president of the Arkansas Young Democrats Club. Other officers elected at the club's state convention in North Little Rock this weekend were Mrs. Judith Rogers, North Little Rock, women's vice president; Jack McCoy, Malvern, second vice-president; Roy Lee Hight, Little Rock, secretary; Bob Castle, Jacksonville, treasurer and Gary Eubanks, North Little Rock, state representative.

Surge for Goldwater Is Building

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A surge for Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination appears to be building in the Far West.

Western governors here for their annual conference are divided on his chances of capturing their bloc of convention votes. But Goldwater sentiment is far more pronounced than declared support for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Goldwater, who has announced for re-election next year, has said he isn't seeking the presidential nomination. Rockefeller hasn't announced for it. Both, however, are regarded as the leading potential contenders.

One evident reason for Goldwater's strength in the West is that he has been getting around the area on speaking engagements. Few Western voters have had a chance to get a look at Rockefeller. He also has dis-aged open activity in his behalf in California.

Republican Gov. John A. Love of Colorado raised another point at a news conference Monday.

In answer to questions, Love said "recent occurrences" have made Rockefeller less acceptable as a nominee. He said the New York liquor license investigation has hurt Rockefeller to some extent. He declined direct comment on public reaction to Rockefeller's possible remarriage.

Love said Colorado, which he described as conservative, leans toward Goldwater but that either man could carry the state. He also said Rockefeller is acceptable to him personally.

A Goldwater partisan, Gov. Paul Fannin of Arizona, said the senator could carry the South and most Western states, including California.

Democratic Govs. Albert D. Rosellini of Washington and William A. Egan of Alaska said Rockefeller was the Republican favorite in their states. Along with Democratic Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada, they predicted, however, that President Kennedy would be the overwhelming choice for a second term.

Steel Firm Recinds Some Price Hikes

NEW YORK (AP)—Wheeling Steel Corp., the comparatively small regional producer that kicked off industry-wide selective steel price increases has had to rescind some markups and trim back others.

The firm acted to fall in line with U.S. Steel Corp., the industry giant and traditional pattern-setter in prices.

Wheeling, accounting for less than two per cent of the nation's steel production last year, wound up on a limb after larger concerns posted varied increases on several steel items.

In nearly every case, Wheeling pegged prices higher than the others. Some other firms overshot the industry-wide pattern that gradually developed.

Wheeling was the last to roll prices back Monday, trailing such bigger producers as Republic, National, Jones & Laughlin and Armco, third to sixth ranking firms.

price increase parade, moving five days after Wheeling. Its decision to rescind, an official said, was made to be competitive.

The latest developments came as the nation's booming steel production edged to a three-year high last week for a second straight week.

Production expanded to 2,521,000 tons, the American Iron and Steel Institute reported, rising for a 12th week in a row on a swelling tide of strike-hedge orders from steel users.

Output is between 80 and 85 per cent of estimated capacity.

4 Convicts Escape in Michigan

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Four convicts described as dangerous and desperate sawed through the bars of the maximum security section of Southern Michigan Prison today and escaped, police reported.

Authorities ordered a massive search for the fugitives, who had been serving terms for murder, kidnaping, and breaking and entering. They possibly were armed. "They're desperate men," Warden George Kropp said.

The flight and break-out of only one prisoner was noticed early today. But, an emergency count a few hours later revealed dummies were placed in the cells of the maximum security block for the other three.

Kropp identified the escapees as:

James J. Hall, 40, sentenced to life from nearby Calhoun County in June, 1962 for the second-degree murder of a woman during a drunken argument.

Robert L. Gipson, about 30, sentenced to a 13-25 year term from Livingston County in June 1960 for second-degree murder.

Richard Mauch, 40, sentenced in January, 1962, from both Ingham and Jackson counties for life for assault with intent to murder in Ingham County and for 20-30 years for kidnaping police officers in Jackson.

Elmer Crachy, 35, sentenced in October 1959, for 12-15 years for breaking and entering in the nighttime from Van Buren County.

The cells all backed onto catwalks and it was these sections of the bars that had been sawed, probably with a hacksaw blade, Kropp said.

The cutting took place over a long period of time, Kropp said. The institution is the nation's largest walled prison.

The men made a daring escape by leaping from the window and running directly under a guard's tower toward the last barrier, a cyclone fence. The fence was torn open at the bottom, Kropp said.

Wants a GOP Conservative

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Chet Lauck, vice president of Continental Oil Co., told a group at the concluding banquet of the first Arkansas Governmental Affairs program that he would like to see a recognized conservative run on the Republican ticket in the 1964 presidential election.

Lauck said a Republican such as Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., would split the country into its two real parties—liberal and conservative.

He said if this happened the liberal Republicans and the conservative Democrats would change sides.

Lauck was the featured speaker at the banquet which was attended by some 200 persons. It closed out the Governmental Affairs Forum which was held at Arkansas Tech in Russellville Friday and Saturday.

Lauck formerly played the part of Lum in the "Lum 'n Abner" series.

Warning Girl Had Diptheria

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Authorities at Memphis have issued a warning to persons who rode a bus April 14 from Blytheville to Memphis that an 8-year-old girl on the bus had diptheria.

Linda Carol Metheny of Finley, Tenn., has been in a Memphis hospital since Sunday. Dr. L. M. Graves, Health Department director, said tests have confirmed the diagnosis of diptheria.

The girl and her mother, Mrs. Fred Metheny, rode a Greyhound bus from Blytheville to Memphis.

Guard Beaten in Attempt on Prisoner

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An Arkansas Baptist Hospital employee was kidnaped, beaten and slashed with a knife late Monday night in an apparent attempt to get police guards removed from the room of James Dean Walker, who is charged with first degree murder in the fatal shooting of a North Little Rock policeman.

William Bonds, 56, a former school teacher, was found in his car about 1:30 a.m. today by police investigating a telephone plea for help from Bonds. The car was several miles out Highway 10, west of Little Rock.

Bonds, the cashier at Baptist Hospital, told police that three men and a woman had kidnaped him when he came out of the hospital to go home a little after 11 p.m.

Bonds said he was forced to drive out Highway 10 in his own car while some of his attackers followed in another car.

Bonds said the people talked to him about getting the police guards away from Walker, who suffered two gunshot wounds in the stomach April 17 during a shooting fray in which North Little Rock Patrolman Jerrell Vaughan was killed. Walker underwent surgery at the hospital and has been under police guard ever since.

Bonds said he told them he had nothing to do with guarding Walker, Police said, and his captors apparently just decided to beat him up.

Bonds was cut on the hands, face and abdomen. One cut ran about three inches across his cheek.

His condition was reported as satisfactory this morning.

At 15 minutes until midnight, about 45 minutes after Bonds had left the hospital, the hospital telephone operator received an anonymous call. A man told her Bonds or his family would be hurt unless the guard was taken out of Walker's room by midnight.

Hospital authorities notified police. Extra officers were sent to the hospital and deputy sheriffs went to Bonds' home to protect his wife and daughter.

Some two hours later, an operator at the telephone company received a call from an exchange in the northwest section of town. The caller said, "Tell Baptist I need help badly, very badly. Out Highway 10."

Police investigated and found Bonds, bloody and slumped over in the seat of his car.

Russell Freeman Kumpke, 37, of Sweet Home, just south of Little Rock, who was with Walker the night Vaughan was shot and who

Khrushchev Projects Self Into Debate

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Diplomatic Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev projected himself into the middle of the great Western debate over nuclear arms today with his charge that the United States would expose its NATO allies to Soviet fire in order to divert some attack missiles from American targets.

This evident effort by the Soviet premier to fan allied fears against further deployment of U.S. nuclear weapons in NATO territory stands out as a major purpose of the 10,000-word interview he gave the Italian newspaper, Il Giorno of Milan.

Khrushchev obviously believes he has found a vulnerable spot in the Western Alliance and that he has caught Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara in a vulnerable position. For he cited a recent statement by McNamara that stationing Bomarc anti-aircraft missiles in Canada would "at the least" serve to decoy Soviet missiles in event of war.

Washington leaders have usually credited Khrushchev with smart cold war tactics. His handling of East-West issues in his 75-minute talk with editor Italo Pietra demonstrated considerable resourcefulness in playing on current tensions and fears in the Western Alliance.

Directly or by implication he managed to inveigh against supplying U.S. nuclear warheads to Canada (a source of recent U.S.-Canadian dispute), against stationing U.S. Polaris submarines in the Mediterranean "almost under the walls of the Vatican," and against American sharing of nuclear weapons with other Allied nations in defense of Western Europe.

Khrushchev, as protested before against NATO nuclear plans and particularly against West German participation. But his assertion that the United States is pushing a sinister program to spread nuclear weapons in order to turn fire away from its own targets constitutes an effort to sow deep distrust in Canada and Western Europe and undermine the very basis of allied cooperation.

This, however, was not the only purpose apparent in the carefully considered replies which the Soviet leader gave to the dozen questions presented to him.

Khrushchev also seemed to be pressing President Kennedy to meet his terms for a nuclear test ban treaty. He said the United States is forcing the Soviet Union to consider whether to withdraw the offer it made last December to accept two or three on-site inspections of Soviet territory a year.

The charge Khrushchev made in this connection was that he had been authoritatively informed the United States would agree to two or four such inspections but when he made his offer the United States reneged.

In raising this issue he touched on a sore point in Washington-Moscow relations for U. S. officials insist that no such word was

Lady Wants to Be Veterinarian

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (A) — Sharon Richards, an 18-year-old freshman at the University of Arkansas, wants to join a select sorority.

She wants to be a lady veterinarian.

There are only 250 of them in the nation and most specialize in the treatment of small animals.

Sharon is taking two years of pre-veterinary medicine studies at the University of Arkansas. Then she'll go to Oklahoma State for four more years of work.

Needless to say, she is the only girl in her class and that is considerable consolation in itself.

She says she's been fond of animals since childhood and for years has had a desire to work with them.

She lives at Sulphur Rock, near Batesville, where her father raises cattle. "I used to go out with Dr. George Vickers (a Desha County veterinarian) and watch him treat daddy's cattle," she said. "He's a wonderful man, and he used to explain what he was doing as he went along. One day it dawned on me that I wanted to do the same thing as a career."

passed to the Kremlin; some think there may have been a misunderstanding arising out of informal talks last November between U.S. Ambassador Arthur Dean, since resigned, and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily Kuznetsov.

Khrushchev's threat to reconsider his proposal seems designed, in any case, to put pressure on Kennedy to accept the Soviet terms. Alternatively Khrushchev may be laying the ground work for resumption of Soviet weapons testing.

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Carl J. Olson went to a neighbor's home in suburban Lincolnwood Monday to thank him for his postcard mailed while vacationing in Colorado Springs, Colo.

"He looked at me kind of funny," said Mrs. Olson. "He said he hadn't been there in nine years."

Mrs. Olson and the neighbor, Elton Charleson, looked at the card again. The card, which arrived Monday, was postmarked July 4, 1954.

The Corps of Engineers estimated cost of the project at $355,746. The job includes service roads for moving heavy machinery into areas near Tichnor and Nady

Prosecutor's Car Blasted at Hot Spgs.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—What apparently was a small dynamite bomb shattered a car owned by Pros. Atty. David B. Whittington of Garland County late Monday night. No one was injured.

It was the second bombing in this resort city this year.

Whittington said about 20 feet of fuse was used to set off the bomb, which damaged the hood, front fenders and headlights of the car. He said the motor was still in running condition.

He declined to comment on a possible motive for the bombing.

"I just think it's apparent that somebody doesn't care for me very much," Whittington said.

He also refused to comment on what he had been investigating recently, or the possibility that the bombing was linked to his investigations.

"I can only say I am investigating quite a number of things," he said. "Any one of a dozen things could have brought the bombing about."

Roy K. Moore, special agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation office at Little Rock, said the FBI would assist Hot Springs Police in the investigation. He said, however, that the FBI is not actively investigating because it had not been shown that federal law had been violated.

Hot Springs detectives said the blast occurred about 11:15 p.m. The car was parked in front of Whittington's home in Hot Springs.

Gambling in Hot Springs is wide-open, although Arkansas statutes outlaw all but pari-mutuel betting.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said in a news conference in Chicago on March 4 that the Justice Department was investigating organized crime in Hot Springs.

He said the department planned some action, but he declined to elaborate. Kennedy said at the time that it probably would be six months before results of the investigation would be made known.

Mayor Dan Wolf of Hot Springs, questioned about Kennedy's remarks, said he knew of no organized crime in the city.

"If there is organized crime here we'd like to know about it," he said.

The Vapors, a plus supper club-casino, was bombed Jan. 4. About 40 people were in the club at the time—about noon—and 12 were seriously injured. No one was killed.

Tests later confirmed that dynamite was used in the Vapors blast. The club moved its operations elsewhere in the city for several weeks, but recently returned to its old site when repairs were completed.

Negro to Take a Mental Test

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—M. C. Tally, 29, a Negro, begins a 30-day mental examination at the State Hospital in Little Rock today.

Circuit Judge J. B. Colvin ordered the examination Monday at Hamburg.

Tally, of Monroe, La., was arrested Saturday when he stepped off a bus in Shreveport, La. Ashley County Sheriff Guy Morman had asked Louisiana authorities to pick up Tally for questioning.

In Louisiana, authorities said Tally admitted stabbing Tommy Rodgers to death last March 1. The 20-year-old Arkansas A&M College sophomore was stabbed to death at night while working alone at his father's service station in Hamburg.

The murder weapon, a Marine bayonet with a seven-inch blade was found about 75 yards from the station. About $125 was taken from the cash register at the station.

Tally waived extradition and was committed to the State Hospital Monday.

Labor Commissioner Clarence Thornbrough will become executive secretary to the governor at the end of this week. There was speculation that Bill Laney, the assistant labor commissioner, would be elevated to the department's top job.

Faubus' aides said they could not remember the governor ever acting as master of ceremonies for an event. Dean Ralph Barnhart of the University of Arkansas Law School will deliver the principal address at the banquet.

Say Economy Boosts Tax Cut Chances

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., said today a brighter-looking economy is boosting chances of an early tax cut "because the deficit position has improved."

Boggs, who met newsmen after President Kennedy's weekly breakfast with Democratic congressional leaders, thus became the first prominent member of his party in Washington to suggest flatly that next year's budget deficit will be smaller than the $11.9 billion Kennedy forecast in January.

Many have been guessing that the deficit for the 1964 fiscal year, which begins July 1, will be even larger than the January prediction.

Newsman asked the Democratic congressional chiefs how they feel about a report that apparent improvement in the economy is likely to stall action on Kennedy's plan for a three-year tax cut of $10.3 billion, by making the need for a spending stimulant less urgent.

This increases the prospects for passing a tax cut bill, Boggs replied, "because the deficit position has improved."

Many congressional conservatives have expressed reluctance to vote for the biggest tax cut in history when the federal budget is deeply in the red.

Boggs did not indicate the degree to which the prospective deficit, in his view, has been reduced.

House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., standing beside Boggs, didn't go into the deficit prospects but declared, "I have every confidence a tax bill will be passed this year."

Boggs reported that the House Ways and Means Committee, now going over the tax bill line by line in executive sessions, will complete its work on the measure within 30 days. The bill is not expected to reach the House floor until late May or June.

The newspaper said the two-day meeting is expected to attract several thousand Communist sympathizers from the interior of Mexico.

Property Poor Dukes Open Up Castles

By BOB CONSIDINE

LONDON—There's a bit of a lap, old chap, in the "stately homes" business these days. It came to a head on Easter Sunday when the Duke of Bedford was obliquely charged with padding his figures when he claimed that his Woburn Abbey had attracted perhaps three times as many visitors as the Duke of Marlborough's Blenheim Palace drew.

Several dozen property-rich, purse-poor dukes, earls, viscounts, lords and what-nots have in recent years attempted to blunt the crushing "death duties" and other taxes by opening their estates to sightseers at, generally, two and six (35 cents) a head — nippers half fare.

The 65-year-old Duke of Marlborough isn't keen on it one little bit, mind you.

"I look upon my home as an education, not an entertainment," the Duke told the Sunday Times for its Easter edition. "If you inherit an historical place from your ancestors, it is a pity to turn it into a fun fair. You can probably guess which people I am referring to."

He has since then jumped his admission price from a shilling to three and thruppence, obviously to keep out the riffraff, but has allowed a miniature steamboat and railroad for the use of nippers not interested in seeing the "rather poky room, really" in which Winston Churchill was born.

"I gather that some people like that sort of thing," he said of the playground.

The Duke, who smokes Churchill-sized cigars, bars his 11,500 acres each weekend except on Bank Holidays. He's in residence weekends and, as the Times put it so clearly, "He doesn't care for crowds."

Then the Duke spoke again for publication with the humble touch that has endeared him to one and all:

"I have to open the palace and I can't say it delights me. But it does give the lower classes a chance to see some beautiful things. To do anything further, to make the place into a holiday camp, would be to lessen its significance."

The Duke of Bedford, first seto of that illustrious line to wound himself doing the Twist, seems to like people, for some reason Marlborough might find inscrutable. He provides all sorts of "holiday camp" atmosphere at the magnificent palace which a thoughtful forbear provided for the family by hanging its resident owners, a group of monks who frowned on Henry VII's divorce.

Bedford announced his Easter Sunday "gate" at 20,000 with many turned away because there was no more room in his car-park, which is about the size of the Yankee Stadium.

Lord Hertford's Ragley Hall, which drew only 2,000, admitted to being envious of Bedford's figure. The Marquess of Bath (300 came to his family seat, Longleat) more or less asked for a recount on the Duke of Bedford's figures.

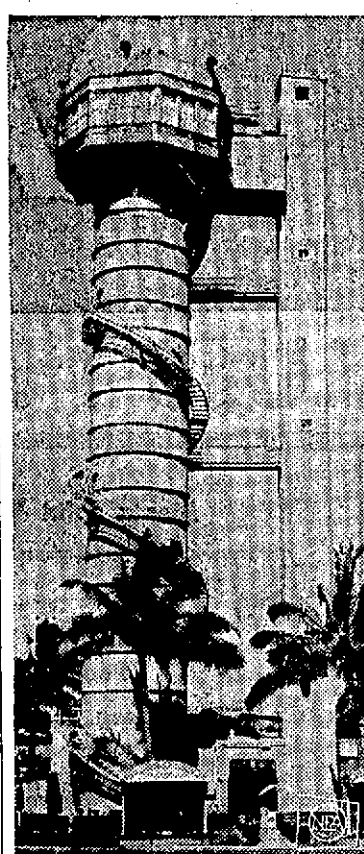

"Bedford turning people away?" he said to the man from the Daily Sketch, neatly catching his popped monocle. "Don't believe it."

The lords are having ratings arguments, just like in America. When he heard that Lord Montague's Beaulieu was the second biggest tourist draw, next to Bedford's, Lord Bath cried.

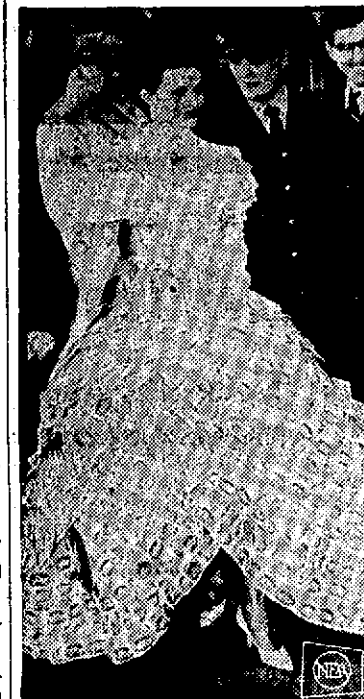

"Beaulieu is not in the stately homes league," which seemed to me to present a sticky wicket for all concerned. "People don't go there to look at Montague's house, they go to see his vintage-car mu-

Gathings to Feel Out the Home Folks

By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark., has started his annual project of sounding out sentiment in his home area on some of the issues of the day.

He is sending out about 9,000 copies of a questionnaire designed to measure grass root opinion on the worth of various domestic and foreign programs.

This is an annual undertaking by Gathings.

While most of the questionnaires go to his northeastern Arkansas district, he does get some replies from elsewhere in the state.

Polls are tricky things and it is possible to put in some loaded questions which almost beg a certain answer.

However, Gathings says he tries to frame questions in a fair way so as to get a good sampling of opinion.

This year he has framed a set of 14 questions on which the voters are asked to indicate whether they favor or oppose the program involved or, as a third possibility, if they have no particular opinion.

One of the interesting questions he is asking is whether the constituent favors or opposes "President Kennedy's handling of the office of chief executive."

This one should give him a pretty good gauge on the popularity of the Kennedy administration in his section of the country.

Constituents also are asked to indicate whether they favor or oppose these programs:

Domestic peace Corps; armed services pay increase; federal aid to assist cities establish and operate mass transit systems; a tax reduction if coupled with equal reduction in federal spending; compulsory medical care for aged citizens tied to social security; federal aid for public schools; tax credits to parents for college tuition costs; big spending on the effort to be first to put a man on the moon; expansion of the foreign peace corps, full support for the United Nations; maintaining the foreign aid program at the present level; a sizeable reduction in foreign aid.

Mrs. Betty Fulbright, popular, vivacious wife of Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., is one who knows the value of being informed.

Spotted recently in one of the paid tours of the U.S. Capitol, she explained that she takes these tours several times a year and learns something new every time.

"I show a lot of visitors around the Capitol," she said. "And they ask me lots of questions. This is the way I get the answers—listening to the guides."

Rep. James W. Trimble, D-Ark., says he is hopeful that before long Army Engineers will submit favorable reports on the proposed Gilbert and Lone Rock dams on

MOP Bonds Allowed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission's Finance Board has given Missouri Pacific Railroad Co. authority to issue $3.7 million in bonds to buy new equipment. Bonds, at 4 per the Buffalo river in northwestern Arkansas.

Congress apparently is going to pass an omnibus water projects authorization bill this year and if the Arkansas reports are submitted soon the two projects can be included in the bill.

One Rock was authorized for flood control some years ago but never constructed. Later proposals were made to include power in the structure and to authorize Gilbert for power and flood control. In fact, the two projects were included in a bill which former President Eisenhower twice vetoed.

Since then Trimble has had the Army Engineers restudy the two projects and it is the review reports he is awaiting.

Hospital Employee Recovering

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A hospital employee was recovering today after being kidnaped, beaten and stabbed Monday night by four persons who tried to get police guards removed from the room of James Dean Walker.

Police spread a manhunt for the four today, and Detective Captain A. M. Haynie said there was a possibility they wanted to get into the room to kill Walker rather than free him.

Walker is charged with first degree murder in the slaying of a North Little Rock policeman. He was wounded in the gun battle and has been hospitalized.

William Bonds, 56, night cashier at Arkansas Baptist Hospital, was found in his blood-spattered car about 1:30 a.m. today by police who answered his telephone plea for help. The car was several miles out Highway 10, west of Little Rock.

Bonds told officers the three men and a woman who abducted him talked about holding him as a hostage to "get in to Walker." Haynie said it wasn't clear whether they wanted to help him escape or kill him.

Walker, 25, said he was from Reno, Nev. Police have not uncovered information about his background.

Haynie said police were looking for "an out of town bunch." He indicated an arrest might be made later in the day.

Bonds said that while the men argued about what to do with him, the woman began slashing him with the knife.

He had been kidnaped when he came out of the hospital at 11 p.m.

Sanitorium Accredited

BOONEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Tuberculosis Sanitorium at Booneville has had its accreditation extended another three years. The extension followed a routine survey by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. The Sanitorium has been accredited since 1952.

Chicks Started

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas producers started 5,912,000 broiler chicks during the week ended April 13, the Crop Reporting Service estimated today.

This is one per cent above the figure for the previous week. Of the total placements in the state, 4,904,000 chicks were hatched in Arkansas and 1,008,000 came from other states.

There were 325,000 broiler chicks shipped out of Arkansas during the week.

Choir To Sing

LITTLE ROCK (P) —The 54-voice A Capella Choir of Austin College at Sherman, Tex., will give a concert in Little Rock Thursday night. The group won third place in the 1957 international polyphonic festival at Arezzo, Italy. The University of Arkansas Schola Cantorum won the competition at Arezzo last year—the first American group to place first.

Wash-wear Means Fashion and there are loads of styles in casual and dress shirts to prove why. It's this: Polyester fibers (alone or blended with cotton) now come in fashion fabrics. Start with new broadcloths and oxfords in color and stripes (both polyester-cotton blends). Add tricots in textures or in new stripes and checks. Now, top them off with favorite collars: snap-tabs, spreads and button-downs. Then, wear — wash — wear!
